President of U. M. W. A. Declares Short Week Grant Must Be Included in Any Plan of Settlement Offered to Men; Conference May End.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Secretary Wilson's proposal for settlement of the coal strike will be rejected by the miners, officers of the United Mine Workers of America announced today on their way to a meeting called to formulate an answer. This was taken to mean that the joint conference with operators this afternoon would end abruptly unless the secretary was prepared to submit a new proposition.

T. L. Lewis, president of the U. M. W. A., reiterated that the unions would consider no offer of settlement that failed to grant the demand by the miners of a five-day week.

Members of the miners committee said their meeting this morning would merely ratify the informal agreement reached here last night to reject the offer. Leaders said they would attend the conference at 2 o'clock as they had been asked to do by Secretary Wilson, but that if no new offer of settlement was made they would start immediately for their homes and make ready for the strike called for November 1.

Officers of the United Mine Workers, in a formal statement, declared "Secretary Wilson's proposition and the proposition of the operators are not only alike but both follow the lines laid down by Senator Frelinghuysen in his speech in the Senate in which he undertook to disclose the basis on which the operators would deal with the miners."

"This remarkable similarity," the statement added, "was a least an extraordinary coincidence."

Before the joint conference began, it was announced the operators had accepted the Wilson plan for settling the strike.

SQUIRRELS AT $5 A THROW COME HIGH TO LOCAL HUNTERS

Counting time and expenses of the hunt, the limited quantity of game a hunter gets in Western Pennsylvania woods these days amounts to something approaching a prohibitive figure per piece. Two carpenters employed by a local building firm came home last evening from a two-day hunt near Somerset. They had seven pieces of game—six gray squirrels and a pheasant. Rather expensive, thought their employer, who made the following notation:

Wages of two men for two days	$24
Car fare, lodging, meals and ammunition	11

BOMB INTENDED FOR STEEL WORKERS' TRAIN LETS GO PREMATURELY

About 100 Employees Escape Result of Explosion Along P. R. R. at West Belle Vernon.

By Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 23.—What is believed by the police to have been a plot to blow up a train carrying 100 employees of the Pittsburgh Steel Products company at Alleport was prevented by premature explosion of a bomb placed beside the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad at West Belle Vernon, near here, early today. The explosion occurred only a few minutes before the train reached the spot. It was witnessed by state troopers, who were crossing a bridge nearby. Several men waiting for a train at the station were hurled to the ground by the force of the blast, but none was injured.

The train carrying the 100 employees was late and the police believe this prevented its being blown up. The bomb, they say, was a time infernal machine set to go off at the time the train was to pass. An investigation is being made by state police.

TWO MINOR ACCIDENTS MAR PERFECT RECORD ON LOCAL RAILROADS

Brakeman Sprains Ankle and Work Train Employee Breaks Rib When Bumped From Seat.

Two slight injuries to employees yesterday marred the perfect record of four days previous in the "no accident" campaign of two weeks in Connellsville division railroad territory. Both mishaps were on the Western Maryland.

One was due to a derailment, the other to an engine bumping into a train and toppling an employee from a seat. Perfect scores were reported on the Baltimore & Ohio, the Pennsylvania and the Lake Erie.

When a broken rail caused the derailment of eight cars of a freight train on the Western Maryland at 12:05 yesterday afternoon at Keystone, near Cumberland, N. N. Spear of Cumberland, a brakeman, jumped to save himself and sustained a sprained ankle. He was not otherwise injured. This would be classed among the unavoidable accidents.

In the other case G. W. Ziler, also of Cumberland, was sitting in the dining car of a tool train when an engine bumped into the train. He lost his balance and fell, striking against an object that caused a fracture of a rib. In this instance it was a question as to whether there was any responsibility. This, too might be classed as an unavoidable mishap.

A third accident on the Western Maryland, in which nobody was injured so far as reported to division offices of the Baltimore & Ohio, under which the Western Maryland to Cumberland is operated, occurred about midnight last night at Stewarton. Ten cars of a freight train were derailed.

Two big safety rallies are on the program today for the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie at Dickerson Run. This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock there was a big turnout of children at the Y. M. C. A. F. H. Babcock of Pittsburgh, safety agent for the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, was the speaker. This evening at 8:30 o'clock there will be a general rally, also at the "Y". Mr. Babcock and R. E. Shaw of Pittsburgh, assistant claim agent for the railroad company, will speak. There will be an interesting program, including music by an orchestra and readings by Miss Margaret Baker of Connellsville. A moving picture entitled "Why?" is on the program for afternoon and night. The public is invited.

The automobile was making a trip to Uniontown, when the buggy, driven by John McCormick, came in sight. The victim of the accident was well known at Continental. NEWEST ROBBERY A STONE'S THROW FROM CITY HALL

Diligent Burglar Secures About $50 From Yough House Lunch Stand.

HELPS HIMSELF TO EATS

Revolver and Cigarettes Also Taken but Visitor Was Chiefly After Money for He Overlooked None; No Other Robberies Reported During Night.

West Crawford avenue, a stone's throw from city hall, was the scene of the operations last night of the relentless burglar. The Yough House Lunch stand, next to the Yough House, was forced and a sum of money, believed to be between $45 and $50, taken. The stand is operated by Mike Cucco and Philip Pope.

Mr. Cucco is in charge during the day. Pending the arrival of his partner, who is on duty at night, he was unable to give the exact sum. Pope was at home asleep. Mr. Cucco said his partner always left the money in the stand, not caring to carry it home with him. There was none this morning in the usual place. About $2 in pennies usually left in the cash register also was missing.

To get into the place the burglar used two iron bars and with one of these, or both, he forced open the small door under the glass front of the place. The marks are plainly visible.

In addition to the money, a revolver valued at $15 was taken. The visitor also helped himself to lunch, of which there was an ample supply, and some cigarettes. Money was his chief object, however. He left none behind.

No other robberies over night were reported to the police.

There was considerable criticism today over the release yesterday of Munden Shoemaker after the amount he confessed to stealing from the Atlantic & Pacific Tea company had been restored. The officers, however, said that since the company declined to prosecute Shoemaker there was nothing to do but release him. He denied having had a part in any of the other robberies.

formal plea for the return of their dead was framed for presentation to Congressmen.

The petition sets forth: "Shortly after the declaration of war, Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, speaking ex officio, declared that the bodies of all soldiers who died on foreign soil would be returned to the United States for burial, provided it was so desired by their next of kin.

"We, their fathers, mothers and next of kin, respectfully request that the word of the government in this matter be lived up to and that we who desire our sons' bodies interred in our family plots with those of their parents and relatives be permitted to enjoy this comfort.

"The loss which we have suffered has been somewhat assuaged by the fact that our sons died in the service of their country and it will be considerably lightened if the bodies of our sons are returned. Our sacrifice has been great, indeed, and as the return of the bodies of our sons will be a source of some consolation, we feel that we are entitled to it."

The petition specifically asks for the return of the bodies of these men:

Floyd M. Brookman, Company E, 110th Infantry.

Raymond J. Maloy, Machine Gun Company, 110th Infantry.

Wilbur H. Hamilton, Headquarters Company, 110th Infantry.

What a different breakfast good coffee makes!

It makes everything taste good—it starts "him" off feeling fine! And haven't you noticed that the better the coffee is, the better he feels?

But to make fine, full-flavored coffee, you must have good coffee to start with. And it takes a firm of the experience and magnitude of Arbuckle Brothers, the world's greatest coffee roasters, to give you good coffee at a reasonable price.

More than a million women depend on Arbuckle's Coffee to make breakfast a complete success.

Read what some of them say:

"My wife has been giving me Arbuckle's Ariosa Coffee for 21 years and I find it just as good today as the first time I ever tasted it. I really believe it is improved today and I must have it no matter what it costs."—Mr. J. F. K., Export, Pa.

"I have used Arbuckle's Coffee for fifteen years and would not consider any other. My husband always wants a good strong cup of coffee, and thinks there's nothing like Arbuckle's."—Mrs. N. S., Indiana, Pa.

Have your coffee pot freshly scoured; use fresh boiling water, not water which has been in the kettle for some time; Arbuckle's Coffee from its air-proof, moisture-proof package. Then only will you realize how good coffee can be!

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotics, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable. The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly deprecated, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of

DUNBAR FOLKS PLANNING SERIES OF HALLOWE'EN PARTIES ALL NEXT WEEK

Rev. Bolton, New M. P. Pastor, Welcomed; M. E. Year Successful.

AUTOISTS ARE THROWN OUT

Special to The Courier.

DUNBAR, Oct. 22.—Next week will be devoted to the celebration of "Hallowe'en," and the people of Dunbar will not do anything by halves. The festival begins Monday night with a celebration and supper in the basement of the Baptist church. Decorations in accordance with the occasion will be in evidence, and sufficient corn will be present to insure quite a lively husking contest with the usual rewards for red ears found. The corn will likely be from J. G. Hall's field and it is understood that some of the young men will see to it that the shock taken is beautifully supplied with red ears. The supper will not be lacking in pumpkin pie, and an abundance of other things equally good. They promise a great time and expect a good crowd.

On Tuesday evening the Gaddis Adult Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school will give one of their accustomed rousing Hallowe'en celebrations in the basement of the church and from the preparations being made this year their celebration will surpass all former efforts. Monday will be devoted largely to baking good things for the supper, and in addition to pumpkin pie there will be other garnishes to tempt the appetite. The decorations will be elaborate and the costumes exceptionally ludicrous and attractive. A large crowd is expected and no one who goes will be disappointed with the entertainment and supper.

Wednesday night will be taken to rest up and attend prayer meetings, and on Thursday night the Methodist Protestant Sunday school will close the program with a Hallowe'en celebration that will be somewhat in advance in entertainment and variety of anything they have before undertaken. The decorations will be exceptionally fine and in keeping with the season. Everybody is invited, and only those who do not come will be disappointed.

The Methodist Protestant congregation last Friday evening gave a reception in the church for their new pastor, Rev. Bolton. The church was filled to capacity, the pastors of the other churches taking part and extending the minister a hearty welcome. In addition to speeches by several members of the congregation, the visiting pastors delivered addresses. His response was very appropriate, and assures for the coming year cooperation among the several churches.

The conference year just closed has been the most successful in the history of the Methodist Episcopal church here, and for the Dunbar charge, embracing Wakefield chapel, Bethelboro and Lemont. In addition to closing the year with every obligation met and a snug balance in the treasury, the benevolent contributions were $1,349.05. The present year begins very auspiciously, and with the same pastor, Rev. H. L. Humber, and an equal determination on the part of the congregation, there is every reason to hope that the same good fortune will continue to attend the charge.

The Elite club of Dunbar will hold a meeting in their clubroom Thursday evening of this week. All members are urged to be present as business of importance will require attention. This is a club of the young people of both sexes, boasting a membership of about 50, who, in order to secure amusement during the long winter evenings banded themselves together into an elite musical and literary society. They meet during the late fall and winter months, and this is the first meeting for the current season. During the recess a new piano was purchased and installed in the clubroom, and this will be the first time the club members as a whole will have the privilege of hearing it.

Miss Anna Higgins of this place, Miss Grace Abel of Fairchance, I. C. Ambrose of Greensburg and A. C. McDonald of Altoona, who composed an auto party last Saturday evening, had a miraculous escape from serious injury and possible death just after they had passed Greensburg, eastward bound. The car was going along a dark ash road at about a 30-mile clip when a front wheel left the axle and precipitated the car to a tumble which threw all the occupants out and scattered them along the road. Fortunately the driver threw off the power before being thrown out, and the car was stopped. The company gathered themselves up, and to their great surprise, aside from being bumped and their apparel soiled with road dirt, they were uninjured. The ladies soon recovered from their fright, and then all laughed heartily at their predicament. The wheel was replaced and the car cautiously turned homeward. The Altoona trip has been postponed for a week or two.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will hold the regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. D. Ellenberger Thursday afternoon. All members are urged to be present to participate in the important matters to come before the society.

Miss Christina Burnett, who has been visiting in Pittsburg for some time, has returned home.

J. T. Burhans is again able to be about his business after being confined to his home with a severe cold for a week.

Miss Emma Golden, who had been visiting friends in Fairchance for a week, has returned home.

Louis Baer of North Connelville street was transacting business in Uniontown Monday.

Charles Cope of Pechin was serving on the jury last week.

Mrs. David A. Keffer returned to her home in Clariton last Sunday evening and was accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Baker. Tuesday, after seeing her household goods securely loaded on trucks for transportation to her new home on Ferguson road, she, her daughter and Mrs. Baker returned to Dunbar. Mr. Keffer will remain at Clariton for some time. Their reason for leaving Clariton was that their youngest daughter, Miss Helen, is threatened with tuberculosis and her physician directed that the family locate 50 miles from the river and out of the smoke.

Thomas Donahoe of Wehrem, Indiana county, is visiting his brother-in-law, J. B. Senor of Keffer's. Since his arrival here, he has developed pleurisy, but is improving.

Simon Tice has moved from Pechin to Green Hill, and has secured work with the American Manganese Manufacturing company.

James Miller, formerly of this place but lately of Mount Pleasant, has secured work at the Superba mine near Beeson works and will move back to Dunbar or Keffer's as soon as he can secure a house.

Mrs. E. G. Lehman of Keffer's is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Eliza Twigg, of Allison, some of whose children are sick.

Miss Mabel Lehman of Keffer's was visiting relatives and friends at Mt. Braddock Tuesday afternoon.

John Thorpe of Beeson Mill, farm superintendent for the United Refractory company on Oakmont farm, is marketing his corn crop, which is the heaviest in years, and of excellent quality. He will probably have 500 bushels.

Miss Louise Bernhardt of Uniontown has been visiting Mrs. J. T. Burhans this week.

Alex Duncan, R. D. May, D. C. Feltz and Guy Corrado were transacting business in Connelville Monday.

Miss Emma Golden was shopping in Connelville on Monday.

Mrs. W. C. Smith was visiting with friends in Uniontown Monday.

S. H. Gillespie is making improvements at his home on Shelby street, Pechin.

Mrs. Mary Lehman of Keffer's is suffering from an attack of pleurisy.

G. W. Smiley, George and Bernice Lepline, Ruth, Ben, Richard and Fred Keffer, all of Keffer's, made up an auto party to the mountains last Saturday to gather five bushels of chestnuts. They went up Dunbar creek valley some five miles, and then climbed the steep mountain side for nearly a mile, but all the chestnuts they found could have been carried in a half-gallon pail. Not finding the nuts plentiful, they proceeded to fill the auto with wild grapes and fox grapes.

While the number of nutrods has not been plentiful, the number of squirrels, peasanots and partridges have been few, not enough to pay for powder and shot.

Mrs. Mary Lehman of Keffer's was visiting relatives at Allison Sunday.

Mrs. Emma Lehman and daughter of Oliphant were visiting relatives at Keffer's over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of Tyrone have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Miller of Keffer's for the past week.

Mrs. Huston David and baby of Pechin were visiting Mrs. James Martin Monday.

Charles V. Hardy, Jr., of Irishtown, spent Sunday with relatives in Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Provance of Ferguson were visiting friends at Pechin and Keffer's Sunday.

Miss Vase Hardy of Hardy Hill spent Saturday and Sunday as the guest of Miss Lea Miller of Keffer's.

Mrs. Hugh Carr of Keffer's was a Connelville shopper Tuesday.

More Than Enough Is Too Much.

To maintain health a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the bodily waste and provide energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach trouble, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys.

If troubled with indigestion revise your diet, eat sparingly especially of meats, masticate your food thoroughly. Let reason, not appetite, control also take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper and you will soon be feeling all right again.

LESSONS IN OPTOMETRY

By I. W. MYERS, Opt. D.

LESSON EIGHTEEN

Is there a class of people who are especially subject to eye strain? Yes, those who do near work, such as reading, sewing, or desk work, naturally are liable to strain their eyes.

Is it possible for a person whose eyes are normal to have eye strain? Yes, the class referred to above, constant readers, or writers, or those whose work requires constant near use of the eyes, often have eye strain, even though their eyes are normal.

What relief has Optometry to offer to those who have normal sight, yet who suffer from eye strain by reason of the excessive near work they do? Glasses can be prescribed for near use only, and the wearing of such would help their eyes greatly, and prevent the strain.

The veritable mountains of relief supplies turned out by the millions of chapter workers during the war made the American Red Cross one of the biggest "manufacturing concerns" in the world, with great warehouse space at scores of strategic points all around the globe.

One of the biggest distribution centers was at Saloniki, Greece, and in this picture Bulgarian prisoners of war are seen, there unloading a Red Cross cargo of 2,300 boxes from a French transport. At the right is seen one of the American Red Cross canteens, fleets of which were used in rushing relief to points where the suffering was greatest.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter, or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

NEW FREEDOM'S "14 POINTS."

The boldness of the Swaney faction of the New Freedom Democracy in George township Nos. 3 and 4 in manipulating the primary election in behalf of their candidates—including one of their own number for an important county office—is exceeded only by their versatility.

Not content with the employment of but one or two time-tried and fool-proof schemes for defeating the will of the electors of the district, this accomplished coterie of election fixers has called into play so great a variety of methods as to excite the consuming envy and wondering admiration of other less skilled and daring, but none the less zealous and indefatigable, workers in the cause of making two Democrats count where there were none to count before.

To date the evidence produced at the hearings in these cases shows at least 14 varieties of devices, stratagems and plans to have been used as means whereby to make sure the nomination of the Democratic candidates. In order of their revelation in court these expedients appear about as follows:

- 1-Voting dead men.
- 2-Voting residents of other states.
- 3-Voting residents of other election precincts.
- 4-Voting unnaturalized citizens.
- 5-Voting citizens who were not in attendance at the polls on election day.
- 6-Voting cripples too helpless to be removed from their homes.
- 7-Voting men on the names of others.
- 8-Voting men twice in the same precinct.
- 9-Voting men in each of two precincts.
- 10-Permitting a non-resident to serve on the election board.
- 11-Permitting a member of the board to mark voters' tickets by the wholesale.
- 12-Mutilating ballots by changing marks from Republican to Democratic candidates.
- 13-Instructing non-voters, whose names were listed as voting, to say they had voted.
- 14-Preparing the voters' list in advance of the election.

In point of historic value at least the foregoing catalogue of the rules of faith and practice of the New Freedom disciples, as they have been exemplified in George township Nos. 3 and 4, are certainly entitled to a place second only to another famed list of fundamentals of the same magical number. But as instrumentalities whereby Fayette county is to be made safe for the Democratic party, it must be admitted the essentials enumerated surpass in importance and potency those "14 Points" which the very fountain head of New Freedom in America declared must be the basis upon which the world was to be made safe for democracy.

In consequence of the larger place the brilliant achievements of the brethren in George have attained in public estimation and notice, the now somewhat-suppressed activities of the amateurish "Phantom Chasers" in Conneltsville have operated to throw the whole New Freedom brotherhood into a state of despair which is so overwhelming that it threatens to shatter the morale of this once boasted efficient and highly moral organization.

FOR A NATIONAL BUDGET.

A decisive and encouraging step was taken in Congress yesterday toward the enactment of a law providing for a means of regulating in a systematic manner the appropriation of money for public uses. By the overwhelming vote of 283 to two the House of Representatives passed the bill creating a budget bureau which is to have jurisdiction and oversight over the estimated expenditures of every department of the government. A special committee which has been giving a study to the subject produced the bill which was accepted with only slight alterations from the form reported. When disposition the Senate will make of it is not being forecast.

but it is thought that, in view of the universal demand for some effective means of curbing the unlimited drafts upon the treasury and the pockets of the people, there will be no doubt of the Senate adding its approval to that of the House.

"The evils of the old system of haphazard estimates and appropriations," says the Pittsburgh Gazette Times, "would speedily bring financial bankruptcy to the strongest private corporation. In three days when the most conservative-minded individual is scarcely immune to the spirit of extravagance, what can we look for in the departments of Washington which have become accustomed to war-time expenditures and feel that the taxable resources of the country are inexhaustible?"

"Heads of the Democratic Administration never weary of preaching thrift and economy to the individual and efficiency to our corporations, but if they continue to fall in practicing what they preach the public attitude is likely to be 'What's the use?'"

"It is because of the long prevalent knowledge that the Democratic Administration in all its departments and branches has been wantonly wasteful and extravagant in public expenditures, and has resisted every attempt to have a check of any kind applied to disbursements, that the status of Democrats for any office, city, county, state or national, on the score of fitness and pledges of economy will receive scant consideration at the hands of voters."

THE DAILY THREAT.

From the Phantom Chasers' Organ. Information that was made a few days ago will be placed in the hands of an officer today.

If, as the phantom organ of the Phantom Chasers asserts some names on City Assessor Lynes list "have never been questioned," why was the list published without first striking out such names?

Gompers has gathered up his bundle of toys and gone home, just as other children who would not play if they could not win, have done before him.

There is quite a noticeable shortage of New Freedom arguments these days. Better page Hoover and request that the zoning system of distribution be enforced again.

Are we to be assured that the army of hunters will make as good a "No Accident" score as the army of railway trainmen?

WHO'S PROFITEERING?
Now That Cattle and Hogs on Hoof
Have Dropped in Price.
(Communicated)
Editor of The Courier, Sir—

A few facts the public ought to know given by one who knows.
Last spring hogs were selling in such western markets as St. Joe, Kan., Kansas City, Mo., and Omaha, Neb., for from $21 to $22 per 100 pounds live weight. Cattle sold at $10 to $12 per 100 pounds live weight. This of course accounted for the increased and high retail price of meat.

For the last three months hogs have dropped in price $6.00 per 100 pounds or to $15 to $16 per 100 pounds live weight. Cattle likewise dropped to $6 to $8 per 100 pounds live weight. The retail price continues at its height. If there is such a thing as profiteering this looks like a clear case of it either in the middle-man or our local retail dealer. If not the local dealer, he should have a chance to clear himself.

We think the consumer should have the benefit of the cut in price.

112,216 PERSONS

Constitute the Army of Pennsylvania Railroad Stockholders.

The Pennsylvania railroad has recently reached a new high record in the number of stockholders. August 1 the aggregate number was 112,216, this being an increase of more than 8,000 in a year. The average holding is now 89 shares as against 106 shares two years ago.

The railroads of the country have more than a million shareholders, the number about equaling the number of employees, yet the latter under the Plumb bill would take over properties they do not own.

Railroad security holders represented by insurance companies and their policyholders and savings banks and their depositors aggregate 30,000,000 persons. None of the great corporations, not even the packers, are owned by a few. They are managed by a few, which is essential if they are to be well managed, but the holders of their securities are to be found in every village and hamlet in the land.

No Time For Republicans to Pay Compliments to Democratic Friends

From Brownsville Telegraph

The Republican party in Congress has shown where the party in the nation stands. It has declared by word and deed for the freedom of the individual man and the institutions by which free Americans have protected their freedom.

The county and municipal elections upon us are to be rallies of the party to the standards that our leaders have held aloft. There are those who would have the people forget what the Democratic party is, what it has done and what its leaders design that it shall do in the event of success next year. There are those who would have the citizenship forget that the Democratic party is, and always have been, an organization of destruction and for calamity. They would hold up the names of mistaken men, who own allegiance to the party and who may have acquired places on its ticket.

This is no time for any Republican to pay compliments to his Democratic friends. He cannot afford to jeopardize the very life of his country by subordinating it to the vanity of those who may have acquired places on its tickets.

Now is this a time when any Republican can afford to turn up his nose at any candidate on his party's ticket, or to fall in his duty to him. The thing to remember is not who he is, but that the party on whose ticket his name appears stands for Simon pure Americanism, the freedom of the individual man, the freedom of his opportunity and the maintenance of the institutions by which he maintains his freedom.

This is the time for Republicans to get in trim for the campaign of next year. Next year will be too late.

HAPPINESS

The rich are not
A happy lot
Unless their treasures
They possess
An honest name
Deserving fame
A prattling babe
And its career
With all the gold
They're won to hold
In loneliness
Their striving ends
Unless they know
Where'er they go
The honest joys
Of honest friends

The rich are not
A care-free lot
If all they own
Is sordid wealth
For perfect bliss
They must have this
Of ruddy health
There must be smiles
To light their eyes
And sports and games
That they can share
And they must know
Where'er they go
That love shall make Them welcome there

Oh, there is much
Gold cannot touch,
Which poor men own
And rich men seek
The peaceful night
Of sweet delights,
The roses in
A baby's cheek
The laughter of
Of friends who may Drop in to make
An evening call
If these you hold,
Though lacking gold,
You may be richest
After all!

To You, Mr. Workman,
The dollar you earn is yours, you work for it, you are entitled to spend it as you see fit. But you deserve value in return. Don't rush into the first store you come to. Consider merchants everywhere are rapidly realizing that they must help in reducing the high cost of living. They are making unheard-of sacrifices and this is true. Single out these merchants, patronize them and it will be only a question of days until all others must do likewise, thus making your dollar worth the original value 100 cents, no more, no less, simply the standard dollar. Bendiner's sale without profits is smashing prices to cut the cost of living. No firm or merchant can exist without profit continually, but we are demonstrating it can be done for ten days by all and if this spirit materialized by all retail stores, the manufacturer can and will help in bringing down the high cost of living by reducing the prices, comparatively, by seeing our earnestness. Yes indeed it's true, Bendiner's $30 garments, $50 garments, $40 garments, $35 garments, $30 garments, $25 garments and $20 garments can be purchased here during our sale without profit at one-third off. Early callers will have best choice. Ben-

An Internal Treatment For Piles (Hemorrhoids)

Gives absolute relief from all pain and suffering. Has never failed.
Guaranteed.

Many people have become desperately ill because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their ailment.
Go to your druggist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy, the discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that taken internally, passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines; and thus reaches the source of the trouble where, by its soothing healing, antiseptic action, it first alleviates and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.
It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days, even in cases that have resisted all previously known treatments really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.
The Connellsville Drug Co. dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever.
IMPORTANT: What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

Buttermilk Creates Beauty Overnight

Delightful New Vanishing Cream Containing True Buttermilk Makes You Look Years Younger or Money Back.

The first application of Howard's
Buttermilk Cream will astonish you.
It creates beauty almost like magic,
but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dullest and most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.
There is no secret about it, nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just common, ordinary Buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth.
To prove this to your complete satisfaction obtain a small quantity of Howard's Buttermilk Cream at C. Roy Hetzl, Connellsville Drug Store on the money back if dissatisfied plan. The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it—Adv.

Once You Try Millers You'll Never Trust to Luck

TIRE satisfaction doesn't come from unusual mileage of one or two casings. Because that is poor reward for those that blow out after 1,000 or 2,000 miles.

That is why we say, that once you have tried Millers you will never again trust to luck. For all Millers wear alike.
All give uniform long distance mileage.
Tire after tire, Millers outrun all standard mileage guarantees.

Compare Them With Others

Every tire is backed by an unlimited mileage guarantee. Regardless of the mileage run, each Miller is guaranteed against defects in materials and workmanship.

Put Millers to the test. Get a pair of these uniform, long distance runners. Put them on opposite wheels, or put one opposite your favorite tire in the back, and one in the front.

Note the mileage each gives. Compare it with the mileage your favorite tires have given. Then you will be convinced.

Get Millers NOW

Only on them can you get the Geared-to-the-Road Tread. This tread engages the ground like cogs, and assures you full power and safety on rutty roads and slippery pavements.

Drive up and let us put a pair of Millers on your car now. Don't trust to luck when you can get mileage certainty.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

Tells How to Darken Gray Hair With a Home-Made Mixture.

Joicy Williams, the well-known actress, who was recently playing at the Imperial theatre in St. Louis, made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it.

Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add one ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and one-fourth ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look 20 years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—Adv.

Easier Now Than Later.

It is easier to break up a cold or check a cough now than it will be later. Persistent bronchial coughs that "hang on" all winter pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. L. W. Day, 65 Cambridge, E. Detroit, Mich., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tea relieves one of bronchitis very quickly. I hope never to have it again!" This reliable family medicine for the relief of coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, etc., contains no opiates. Children like it. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

CONFLUENCE, Oct. 23.—George Lenhart is installing heat in his already comfortable residence on the West Side.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taint," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immediately effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c.

How Are Your Kidneys? Asks Dr. Carey, Specialist

Famous Kidney and Bladder Physician Retiring From Active Practice Appoints C. Roy Hetzel Agent in This Vicinity For His Great Medicine, Marshroot.

During his forty years of constant practice Dr. Daniel G. Carey has helped many thousands of despairing kidney diseased men and women in all sections of the country to regain robust health. Don't take any chances with your kidneys. If you have the faintest suspicion that your kidneys are weak or your bladder is irritated the wisest thing you can do is to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshroot at once.

Remember, Marshroot is not a cure-all or patent medicine, but Dr. Carey's most wonderful prescription, which he now gives to all the world and his army of patients only because he has decided to retire from active practice.

The latest signals often indicate that the kidneys are ailing and need attention.

Dry skin for instances and little specks floating before the eyes.

Sometimes the feet feel heavy, as if your shoes were full of lead.

Often the joints ache or you have quick, darting pains shooting through the back or side.

Then again that frequent desire to empty the bladder, cold, clammy feet and just a little puffiness under the eyes.

Occasionally the hands or feet swell slightly and the palms of the hands are moist.

No regular practicing physician has devoted more time to the study of kidney and bladder diseases than Dr. Carey. He himself asserts that many thousands of cases of Bright's disease and even diabetes could have been conquered by Marshroot, if it had been taken in time. Hereafter you can always get this effective prescription at C. Roy Hetzel and all reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name, Dr. Carey's Marshroot. No other medicine can take its place.

"BONDS OF LOVE"—A. Goldwyn feature starring Pauline Frederick, the celebrated screen star, is today's feature attraction.

The sister and brother of Daniel Cabot's dead wife have been living in his home since her death. In fact, the woman has managed the establishment and her brother has been a handy, spongy sort of individual, whose presence helped to pad out the emptiness of the large living room. Together the brother and sister planned to keep their brother-in-law from marrying again and to ingratiate themselves in his favor so that their lives might be made soft and comfortable. To this end, they decided to keep the memory of their sister ever green in the thoughts of the husband. The plan worked for about a year, when a new governess was engaged for the dead wife's little boy. And the spontaneous affection which sprang up between the two convinced the husband that his little boy needed a mother. Despite the machinations of the grating brother and sister-in-law to blacken her character, the little boy found a new mother and the social gruffers lost their means of sustenance.

A selected comedy is also being shown.

"Miss Crusoe" tells of Dorothy Evans and her elderly aunt, Ella Meeker, who seek seclusion and rest on a deserted island in the Chesapeake Bay and their adventures with a gang of crooks. Dorothy is a teacher in her aunt's school for young ladies. Unknown to them the island is occupied by a gang of crooks who are compelled to desert if they hear the cottage on it has been leased.

Simple Home Remedy

Advised For Rose And Hay Fever

Anyone Can Make a Pint For Trifling Sum and Used in Time May Prevent Annual Attack

"No matter how severe your yearly attack be, no matter how distressing or humiliating—its intensity can be reduced to a harmless, mildness."

says a Kentucky druggist who believes from what he has seen that this simple home made remedy is a most important discovery.

He has seen the most severe and apparently unquarable cases reduced to what might be called a mild cold in twenty-four hours.

In many cases where the patient started treatment a week or ten days before the expected attack the unwelcome yearly visitor failed to appear with anything like its usual intensity.

People who want to try this new treatment can make a pint in a few minutes.

Four one ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle daily as directed and sniff or spray the nostrils twice daily.

That's all there is to the treatment which so many sufferers have found to be a true friend.

Mentholized Arcline in one ounce vials is dispensed by all the better pharmacies.

NO RAILROAD RATE INCREASE UNTIL A RETURN TO OWNERS

Which is to Be on January 1, Next—Says Director—General Hines.

EARNINGS NOT FAIR TEST

Of Income During the Year, Hence Impossible for the Government to Establish Any General Re-Adjustment—Should be Left to Commission

Washington, Oct. 22.—There will be no increase in freight rates by the Railroad Administration prior to the return of the roads to their owners on January 1. This is made clear in a letter written by Director General Hines to T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives in which he states that it would be "impossible for the government to establish any general re-adjustment of rates" because earnings of the roads under the a normal condition prevailing in the early part of this year did not afford a fair test of income.

The manifest desire of the public to have the Interstate Commerce Commission exercise full authority in any re-adjustment of rates to be effective under private control, also was cited by the director general as an objection to the railroad administration's undertaking such a re-adjustment.

From time to time I have discussed with you and other representatives of the Railroad Executives, says Mr. Hines, the question of what if any increases should be made in railroad rates, and the manner in which such increases should be made.

My view has been and is that this important matter must be handled in accordance with the two following considerations:

First.—The question of an increase in rates could not properly be considered on the exclusive basis of the unfavorable showing which the Railroad Administration was making in the early part of this year because that showing was very largely due to an abnormality in freight business so that the results of that period could not fairly be taken as a test for making increases in rates. Necessarily, therefore, it seemed to me that the formulation of any proposal for a general increase in rates would have to await a better opportunity for making an estimate as to what the earning capacity would be under normal conditions. I have been increasingly confirmed in this opinion by the various developments which have taken place.

Second. It has seemed to me that the public would not be satisfied under existing conditions to have any general increase in rates put into effect without the concurrence of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The public sentiment to this effect has been manifested in many ways throughout the year and has been emphasized by the recent passage by the two Houses of Congress of bills providing that there shall be an opportunity to review any rates proposed by the Railroad Administration before those rates shall go into effect. It follows, therefore, that time and opportunity must be provided for public consideration by the regular rate-making authority of any rate proposals now made.

"Since the foregoing controlling factors must be respected it is evident that it would be impossible for the government to establish any general re-adjustment of rates prior to January 1, 1920. It is also evident that any new basis to be established for the future should naturally be considered not from the standpoint of unified operation of all the railroads but to a greater extent from the standpoint of the necessities of the separate railroads. A rate adjustment which might fully protect the government when operating all the railroads as a unit might wholly fail to protect equally or fairly the different railroad when separately operated.

"I therefore see no escape from the conclusion that if the corporations desire to make progress at this time with this matter they enter themselves upon a study of the problem to determine what tariffs they think ought to be proposed with a view to filing tariffs accordingly with the appropriate public authority.

"I suggest therefore that you advise the railroad corporations that, if they desire to take this course I shall be glad to plan, at their disposal all the information in the possession of the Railroad Administration hearing on the subject. Since most of the traffic experts who would ordinarily be relied upon by the railroad companies in a matter of this sort are now employed by the Railroad Administration I shall be glad to provide that the traffic experts so employed shall aid the railroad corporations in studying this problem and bringing it to a conclusion.

"CAN'T CUT OFF MY LEG" SAYS RAILROAD ENGINEER

I am a railroad engineer about 40 years ago my leg was seriously injured in an accident out West. Upon my refusing to allow the doctor to amputate it I was told it would be impossible to heal the wound. I have tried all kinds of salves and had many doctors in the past 20 years but to no avail. Finally I resolved to use F. J. H. B. O. S. G. I. M. T. on my leg. You cannot imagine my astonishment when I found it was doing what over 100 things had failed to do. My leg is now completely cured. —Gus, Hault, 29 North Avenue, Providence, R. I.

It makes me feel proud to be able to produce an ointment like that. Says Peterson of Buffalo. Not only do I am grateful to the Ointment for curing my leg and wounds but for curing my rheumatism, itching skin and blind bleeding of itching piles and I put out a box for 25 cents a price for all can afford to pay and money back from your druggist if I am not cured. —Ad.

The Best Cough Medicine.

I have found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best medicine for coughs and colds I have ever used. writes Mrs. W. L. Oram, Frankfort, Ky. I never tire of recommending it to my friends. Last winter when my son Carl nine years of age had an attack of croup I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it relieved him immediately. I always keep it in the house and whenever we have used it the results have been satisfactory. —Ad.

DEFICIENCY IN STEEL DUE TO THE STRIKE MAY REACH 3,000,000 TONS

Resumption Is Slow, a Definite Break Having Occurred in Valley With Slight Gain at Chicago.

Special to the Weekly Courier.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

The steel industry just before the strike was producing at the rate of about 2,500,000 gross tons of finished rolled steel a month. The strike started one month ago and the deficiency in production on the basis of the previous rate is between 1,000,000 and 1,250,000 tons. With the earliest complete termination of the strike that can be imagined the deficiency will prove all of 2,000,000 tons while if the strike continues to wane only at the rate indicated by events of the past week or two the deficiency may amount to 3,000,000 tons.

The shortage of steel that is apparent does not amount to anything like the quantities indicated by these figures but perhaps that is because of the universal feeling of sympathy and co-operation that pervades all ranks of steel consumers who are assuring the mills that they have no disposition to press their wants. Chambers of commerce and other business organizations are willing and telegraphing to Judge Gary expressing their approval of his position and expressing their confidence that he will stand firm.

The strike continues to recede but at a slow rate. In the past week operations in the Mahoning Valley have been sufficient to establish the fact that a break has definitely begun. The Wheeling district remains tightly closed. Operations have increased somewhat at Gary and Chicago and there are better prospects along the Lake Erie front.

While on the whole the merchant furnaces are affected by the strike much less than the steel works pig iron is strong in all markets and is sharply advancing in price. This advance is a far cry in line with the strengthening that was evident before the strike. As to steel products supply and demand conditions would hardly justify high prices and would doubtless bring them about if free play were allowed but the balance of probability is strong that large increases will oppose advance in the near future at least.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given By One Who Had It.

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Rheumatism and suffered as only those who have it know for over three years. I tried remedies after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally I found a remedy that cured me completely and I have never returned. I have given it to a number of people who were afflicted and even bedridden by Rheumatism and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatism to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent. Simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long looked-for means of curing your rheumatism you may send the price of it in dollars but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly cured. If it cures you I will send it free. Why not try it? Write once.

There was, however, but little more I needed to discover from Claire, still there was one thing, and I asked her bluntly, "Your father came over ahead of us on a faster steamer? He was on the wharf in disguise when we arrived?"

She blushed furiously and stammered, "Y—yes—he was there," and added hastily, "But I didn't know he was there. He told me there would be someone to take charge—when I gave the signal that everything was all right."

"Oh, there was a signal?"

"Of course. I had to let the other one know who had the box."

"You mean you had to let your father know?"

"It was papa—but I didn't see him."

"What did you have to let him know?"

"Whether it was you or Mrs. Delario."

"How did you manage that?"

"I set my little hand on top of the suitcase—that said the box was there. Then I drew off my glove—that said, 'in a slipper.' It wasn't very hard to remember."

"And you had given the signal when I picked up the slipper?"

"Yes—and I was so frightened. I didn't know but papa would be killed."

"And you went home with Mrs. Delario and tried to see if she had the right slipper?"

"Yes—but I never found out."

She looked as if she were dying to ask, "Have you found out?"

I was so afraid she would that I ended the cross-examination hastily by asking her what she heard from her mother and signalled Billy to slip into the conversation and make talk as fast as he could, and after she had replied about her mother—that her grandfather was still dying and her mother dared not leave—she turned to Billy as though she had really only just become aware of his presence, and they soon were chattering away like magpies and the blushes were mostly on Billy's cheeks. For which he might be forgiven. For was just twenty-two and she was just sixteen, but in three years—dear me, what a beauty she was going to be—what a man killer!

I left them to themselves going to my bedroom on some pretext or other while one quarter of an hour followed another, and still monsieur did not return. At nine Claire began to be restless, at quarter after she burst out, "Do you suppose anything has happened to papa?"

I had been supposing it for half an hour—he'd had time to make twenty trips to the telegraph office and back—but I managed to say reassuringly, "Why, what could happen?" and Billy supported me with a fine courageous "Nothing could have happened—his father—he knows how to take care of himself!" and was rewarded with a look. Even at sixteen Claire's looks were valuable—Billy wouldn't have sold that to another fellow for a ten dollar bill.

The elevator rumbled up and I cried, "There he is—I think."

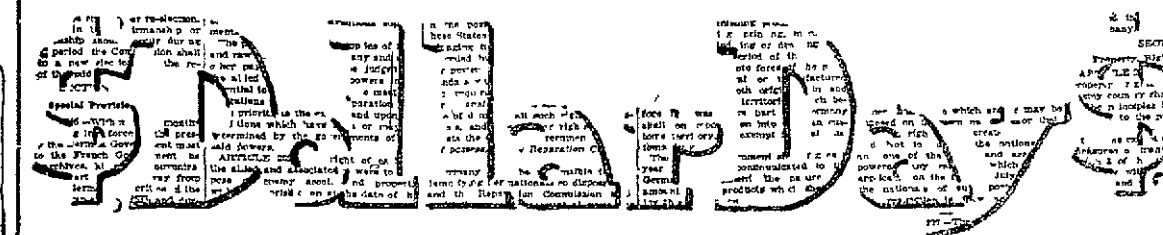

George presented me with two notes and the information that an automobile was downstairs waiting.

I handed one note to Claire, tore open the one addressed to me, and read

"I'm sending a car for my daughter. Will you ask Mr. Rivers to escort her, to the hotel? It is necessary that I say some few words to you alone. I beg you to wait."

It was signed "H. de Ravenel."

I had barely finished this when I heard Claire give a cry. "Mamma is dead!" and I looked up just in time to see her throw out her arms and swoon away at my feet.

People faint away in this story like the heroines of a mid-Victorian romance but I can't help it. Anyway I warned you there was another faint coming which faint was, under the circumstances natural enough.

To be exact, Claire swooned at my feet via Billy's arms. The intention was all on his side however—he caught her as she was regally going and let her down. A light burr deo.

"Got any smelling salts? Quick—if you have some water, if you haven't," he ordered.

I couldn't help an inward snort at the cool way in which he took the proprietorship of the situation in my house—a snort tempered with good natured elderly amusement at his impetuosity and its justifiable cause. He was nearly as pale as Claire and dreadfully agitated. But I was already running to the bathroom for the water to revive her—sixty-four hours previous I'd run for water to assuage the ammoniacal agonies of her dear papa.

Billy was on his knees. From under one protruded the note that had caused the damage. I went down on my knees and apologetically told Billy fished forth the note and with out compunction read it aloud.

"My child (it was in French) Return to the hotel immediately. Ask Mr. Rivers to escort you."

Nothing very nerve-shattering and not a word about her mother. So evidently she'd been expecting something and this had been her over on general principles.

What was in yours?" demanded Billy.

I reached out and got it off the table where I'd thrown it and gave it to him. "Nothing about her mother."

said I "This getting her away is just a dodge to see me alone."

"You're not going to?" Billy exclaimed, with some dismay. I nodded at Claire's face and answered "I don't know—it depends on how soon he comes."

"I wouldn't—It isn't safe for you."

"You come here the very first thing in the morning and if I don't answer your ring—"

Claire just then stirred, and we thought she was coming to, but she relapsed again and Billy doubled up his fists and made a motion toward the front door indicating that if I didn't answer he would break it in.

"That's it—and the very first thing in the morning. I don't know what else to do—and—" I leaned over Claire anxiously and whispered to myself rather than Billy "This is pretty bad."

"Where's that ammonia?" he demanded, making a very face and adding in a whisper "Do you suppose she knows?"

"Of course not. I retorted "You don't suppose he was such a fool as to tell his own child how we'd done him last night? It's in the kitchen where we left it."

"Well, she'll never know from me—and I hope she'll never know from your admonished Billy rising from his knees and searching my face for the assurance."

I responded with something very like a glare—Billy was really taking quite a bit on himself just then—I hope I knew without being told by a boy who went to school to me what the common decencies of the case were! But all I said was "Please get it."

A few drops of ammonia on the towel and she gasped. Then she murmured "Oh mamma" in a trill of accents and relapsed again. I was about to send Billy to the nearest drug store to get more, when she suddenly came to and said "The shocker's waiting at the door."

Billy—who answered the ring—

—told him wait—it's a girl for you. Go down and tell her "coming."

I opened the door, for a moment

—saw Claire and she started up at a noise with her cry "Oh, mamma!" and then seeing me "Oh, you!"

"Yes—I'm here. I soothed and thought she was going off again and gave her a good smart swat with the towel and a good sleep. Claire."

In spite of our assurance it was a good half hour before she was any thing like all right and we got a coherent account from her and found he only thought anything had happened to her mother. It was a full three-quarters of an hour before she was ready to leave.

I was not then half-murdered to go with her and but for monsieur's explicit note—which I read again after Claire came to her senses—I should not have let her go off that way even with Billy though I knew that so far as devoted perfect care went he'd give it to her as well as I. More acceptably, perhaps.

I had a growing uneasiness that monsieur's surreptitious return for words alone was marked a change in the current of events. But he had a ready excuse without my help that Mrs. Delario had the diamonds? Had he seen her since I left the house? And was he prepared to help on her with the law? Certainly I had already noticed he had about him the air of something to do, he might before when he threw himself on my mercy and implied me to help him.

I had his pleading attitude—then how I summed it up in my new impression and when a person does that it's either because he doesn't care or holds the whip. I was inclined to see him and find it and Claire and Billy went away together. I'll wear a grim face the first me about expression of it and young face expressing appreciation of his grave responsibility.

When I'd seen them off in the elevator and closed my door I still felt I wasn't sure that Billy was getting a whole some nearness to the end thing, in women who are very young ones—but time would rapidly reveal that Billy was as for Claire—well, Billy was her first love, in and I knew her father wouldn't suffer any through him. He could be a little rough and unpolished on the outside but he was true blue.

There were three, I was, at my door. Or was it my door?

I listened—I must have been mistaken—though I'd only barely closed it and was still on the hall electric. The elevator that was taking Claire and Billy down was still on its way. Could monsieur have waited up?

The raps were repeated—unmistakably on my door. Without waiting—or even thinking to call through and ask who was there—I threw the door open.

Mrs. Delario whirled in and closed it behind her.

Her face was almost concealed by a heavy black veil, but I recognized her and cried out "Why, Mrs. Delario!" in utter amazement. What under the heavens had brought her there?

She laid a black gloved finger on her lips to signify silence. She thrust something in my hand she opened the door and whisked out as she came, shutting it in my face.

She hadn't uttered a word—she had here caused a sound even the door closed behind her noiselessly. I tore it open as my first impulse—when I got my breath—taking she'd be waiting for the elevator. In the few seconds of my astonishment she had gone.

I checked a call to her—Mrs. Delario—and listened for descending foot steps on the stairs but heard nothing.

I sank into a hall chair quite unnerved—coming on top of what I'd been through that day I feel I'd have had a justifiable cause for a faint on my own account. Only I didn't swoon. I kept asking myself. If it weren't apparent on how did she know which door to knock at? I have no door plate and she'd evidently not asked George—he was taking the car down with Claire and Billy at the moment.

Mrs. Delario popped in. It didn't occur to me at first that she'd probably seen me from the corner of the stairway. I was close to the door after coming good-bye to the others. There had been three raps—classic appointments always. I release rap twice when they wish to enter your abode—they do not descend a porch a notion and then she'd noiselessly whisked in and put something in my hand.

I became conscious of a hard object in my fist opened the fist and he held—the fatal box.

You could have knocked me over with a feather! I'm so sure that she'd brought it back. I dashed for the dining room where the light was and pulled off the cover of the box. There lay the diamonds!

With a sweeping gesture I flung them on the table—in on fell swoop I'd been tumbled off my lofty perch and had become a victim once more—just a disconcerted worried victim responsible for the fate of no one.

And having thrown them down—one of them fell off the table—I snatched them up—monsieur would return at any minute for that private interview with me, and now what was I to tell him? I no longer had the gem free consciousness of an hour ago—I had the diamonds!

But I might have saved my agonies—monsieur did not return that night—he had other fish to fry.

The canny cleverness of monsieur's next move gave me when I knew it such keen intellectual joy that I forgave him everything.

He had argued it out thus. Either I should succeed or I should fail with Mrs. Delario. If I failed it would be for one of two reasons either she denied all knowledge of the diamonds, or she had confessed to me but had been able to bind me to secrecy. But in either case he would read my success or failure in my face the moment he greeted me.

My face was a blank. He hadn't expected to find it that way, but so it was—not a hint did I give him, first when I opened the door, or later while I talked with Claire. In fact, inside of fifteen minutes he became convinced that so far as I was concerned my mission was a failure and I was hedging for time and unwilling to confess it.

He was prepared for my failure—his chance of trapping her lay in his seeing her before I could communicate with her after seeing him. With a face telegraph delivered by George at a preconcerted moment to serve as monsieur's excuse to leave the house, and also as a pretext to leave Claire in the house keeping guard over Billy and my self—none of the three of us suspecting it—monsieur had taken his wailing automobile and swooped down on Mrs. Delario!

BOTH COKE AND COAL FEELING A VERY PRONOUNCED STIMULATION

Prospect of Strike Draws Coal From Many By-Product Ovens.

COKE POSITION STRONGER

Following Freer Buying by Furnaces; Production at Furnace Oven Plants Made Gain of 55,000 Tons, While Net Gain at Region Was But 51,000 Tons.

From The Weekly Courier

The coke and coal trade of the Connelville region is experiencing a very pronounced stimulation as compared with the rather uneventful course it has pursued since the steel strike began. With the almost certain prospect that there will be a suspension of coal mining in the unionized districts of November 1 (no significant change) have taken place which are serving to very materially strengthen the beehive coke position not to mention the increased demand and stiffened prices for steam and by-product coal.

In order of importance of the effect on the trade the active buying of furnace coke by furnaces which in some cases is to supply larger consumptive demand, but in the nearer number of instances to augment stocks at point of consumption is doing the most to quicken the coke market to new life. Second in both order and importance is the fact that the more general demand for coal is taking considerable tonnage away from the by-product ovens, with a consequent reduction in their coke output for which beehive coke is the only available substitute. There has therefore been many inquiries for and rather free purchases of coke while at the same time the calls for coal have increased. The very natural consequence has been an advance in price of both furnace coke having reached $5.00 steam coke $2.50 @ $3.00, by-product coal $3.00 @ $3.25.

While there was the very considerable increase of 53,000 tons in production at plants of the trade interest the perking up in the trade came rather late in the week to influence larger production at the merchant plants. Instead, the tendency was in the other direction a decrease of 2,000 tons having been recorded cutting the net gain of the region down to 51,000 tons.

The enhancement of coal prices which have shown a strong upward trend for some time past had begun to turn a number of coke operators more and more toward decreased coke production and enlarged coal production. A number of plants last week began to close down ovens in order to better take care of the coal business offering still others cut down the number of days their ovens were in active operation while keeping their mine on a full six-day schedule.

A very considerable number of open plants ran but four days some five two or three only two days while several of the larger operations maintained full running time. The H. C. Frick Coke company approached closer to a full six day schedule than at any time since the strike like began a month ago yesterday.

Estimated production of coke for the week ending Saturday October 18 was 204,445 tons, contributed by the two districts as follows: Connelville, 123,570 an increase of 43,866 tons, Lower Connelville 81,875, an increase of 7,815 tons or a total increase of 51,681 tons. By interest, the production was: Furnace 122,060 an increase of 53,746 tons merchant 81,945 a loss of 2,055 tons.

The net change in the active oven list was an increase of 23, two at furnace and 21 at merchant plants.

The estimated production in net tons of coke for 1919, compared with the corresponding weeks of 1918, is shown in the following tabulation:

COKE TRADE SUMMARY

The coke trade is perking up. In fact it has perked up very considerably as measured by $1,000 tons increase in production, an advance to $5.00 for spot furnace and to $3.00 for spot foundry in prices and a very marked conservatism on the part of producers about making future commitments so long as still further advances in prices are in prospect.

The near approach of November 1 which it is believed will be marked by the suspension of work in the organized mining districts the division of considerable coal from the by-product ovens to other channels and the activity of the furnaces in augmenting their stock piles and the increase in consumptive demand have been the factors which have contributed to the strengthening of the beehive coke position. Altogether there fore the trade of the region has taken on great activity. Coke is scarce as a number of buyers have already discovered. Again quite a number of coke producers finding coal prices at attractive have been shaping up their operations so as to be able to ship more raw coal and make less coke.

Production jumped to 204,000 tons last week, the gross gain having been 53,000 tons all at the hands of the furnace interest. The quickening in the market not having come in full force until the end of last week, the first of this week the merchants had not planned for larger output.

CLAIMS IT GAVE BACK TO HIM HIS OLD TIME HEALTH

Federal Street, Pittsburgh, Man Says Ten Herbs Restored Him to Health.

"There are so many so-called stomach and liver and kidney medicines extensively advertised today that the people are lured away from the good old time herbal remedies such as our forefathers used to take," said the Ten Herbs man in a recent interview who is daily giving the public the benefits to be derived by taking Ten Herbs the purely herbal stomach, liver and kidney remedy.

Since Ten Herbs was so successful in introducing here many persons are testifying every day to the benefit derived by taking it.

As an instance Mr. B. C. Smith residing at No. 1108 Federal street, Pittsburgh, who has a large acquaintance here and is employed by one of Pittsburgh's foremost firms, said:

"After the hard season just passed which none of us will forget for many a day I was all run down, I seemed to have no energy or ambition to do anything. My stomach was in a weak condition and I had no appetite whatever. I could not get a good night's sleep was constipated and I felt sorely in need of a good medicine to build me up. I heard a good deal how Ten Herbs helped others and finally put my nerves in fine shape. I now have a good appetite sleep well and my constipation is relieved. Ten Herbs has given me back my old time pep and I am feeling like a new man. I certainly feel it my duty to tell others of the great benefit I received from taking it."

Ten Herbs is sold in Connelville at the Connelville Drug Co. Store—adv.

DEFICIENCY IN STEEL PRODUCTION ALREADY 1,000,000 TONS A MONTH

Complete Recovery Will Require Long Time After the Strike Is Over, Furnace Loss Will Be Serious.

While the entire steel trade in its broadest sense and including consumers and distributors as well as producers is concerned chiefly with the strike and its eventual ending with the producers in full control of their properties in other words with open shop steel consideration of the future of steel prices cannot be avoided entirely for that is a very interesting subject says the American Metal Market.

Steel output production in August was at the rate of about 33,000,000 gross tons a year which means that finished steel in merchantable form was being produced at the rate of about 2,500,000 gross tons a month. Since the strike began nearly four weeks ago production has been curtailed by not less than 10 per cent, probably by somewhat more and thus there is a deficiency in production of at least a million gross tons a month. The strike is playing out slowly and even if the return to employment comes much more rapid in the next week or two than it is just at present the restoration of full output will be postponed to a later time. Working forces will be more or less disorganized and full production may not come until three months or more after the strike is ended by the return to employment of all those now idle.

With the loss of tonnage at fully a million tons a month the actual decrease in the loss even the most rapid decrease that can be expected you mean a loss altogether of more than two million tons quite possibly as much as three million tons. Considering the relations of supply and demand that existed before the strike he will prove a very serious loss in tonnage.

If the market were to be made purely by the law of supply and demand steel prices would advance and a considerable amount and they would stay up in all probability or a long time. The question really is to what extent if at all the producers will yield to the law of supply and demand. Undoubtedly there are
